From the Executive President's Desk.

Dear Students,

Very Warm Welcome and good wishes for 2014. I wish all of you a very fruitful year ahead. Driven by our mission towards “Excellence In Education”, ATHARVA Group Of Institutes always strives to fulfill its mission to provide more and more opportunities to all the aspiring youth to excel in life by developing not only academic excellence but also fostering the right values of Dedication, Commitment and Discipline creating civic responsibility and building global competencies in a dynamic environment. The vision of the management, creativity of the students, co-operation of the parents and dedication of the faculty have contributed to our success.

Let us continue ahead & work incessantly towards our goal. “Thinking Ahead” let us plan innovatively and execute our strategies to make life more meaningful. AET has achieved milestones in the fields of engineering, information technology, computer applications, Management studies, Fashion, Hotel Mgmt and catering technology and from here on will now venture in to new arenas. ATHARVA is also actively involved in various social activities, corporate social responsibility initiatives through which it contributes towards empowering the society.

Shri Sunil Rane
Founder Secretary &
Executive President, AET

Thanking You

Shri Sunil Rane.

E-Week 2014

Atharva College of Engineering, Malad (West) celebrated E-WEEK'14 from the 17th to the 23rd of February with the theme “Innovating for India” under the guidance of NEN (National Entrepreneurship Network). E-Week is a national level festival which imparts the spirit of entrepreneurship in the young minds of our country. 'E' in E-week stands for “Entrepreneurship”. The Fest gives a platform to present ideas at the National Level.

E-Week'14 was inaugurated on the 17th of February at 10:30 in the college circular hall. Honorable President Shri Sunil Rane Sir inaugurated the center model and also had a look at different events of EWeek'14. Rane Sir was all praises for the same. The center model displayed students' ideas in relation to innovation for India and also technical projects such as welding bot , energy meter and smart street lights. There was a wall displaying all the student ventures and also the different activities of Ember throughout the year. The walls of college campus were full of posters and students indulged in various events like Venture De Capital, Megapolis, Atharva Stock Exchange, Rajneeti and many more such events which motivated the students in identifying and starting a business venture while taking into account both the risks and rewards associated with the venture. The festival also included activities like E-Week @Schools, Ember Bazaar, Flash Mob and Rally.

Ember E-cell conducted a rally on “Equality In Entrepreneurship”. The rally was held in Borivali starting from Don Bosco school to Chandavarkar road. A Flash mob was conducted at the Oberoi mall and the Inorbit mall with the theme “Raise Your Voice- Against Smoking” and the students performed twice at both locations on popular demand. In order to inculcate marketing skills among students Ember Bazaar was held at Borivali station where the students sold useful articles of good quality and at cheaper rates.

The Ember Committee Members- Avneet Arora, Divyesh Rajput, Pratik Lotia, Brijesh Maurya, Janhavi Deo, Bhumi Merai, Divya Joshi, Vivek Kamdar, Vicky Vaswani and Yash Shah managed the entire E-week in a fantastic manner. The E-week was once again a great success. Thanks to the motivation and support given by our honorable Rane Sir.

INDUSTRIAL VISIT 2014

“You leave your home a traveller, but you return as a storyteller”

It would be gross injustice to condense the happenings of an entire unforgettable week into 350 words, but that's the thing about holidays. Another thing about holidays is the emotional hangover; and this is not the kind that can be fixed the next morning with a mug of coffee or hydration. It's there to stay with you forever.

Photographs depicting every hour, of every day; loads of dirty, snow-drenched, crumpled laundry; loose change in every compartment of every bag, but no remembrance of any expenditure; haggling incidents; well-exploited antakshari rounds and running out of films for dumb charade; the highlights of our journey may appear a tad bit strange, random and ridiculous, but every moment was precious and is etched in our minds in a rich Technicolor.

Day 1 began with Chandigarh and followed on to Manali and then finally Amritsar. Chandigarh sped off with hurried visits to gardens, parks and shopping and ended with warnings of keeping warm clothes close to hand in preparation for Manali.

For someone who experienced snowfall for the very first time ever, it couldn't have been in a place better than Manali. We opened our eyes on Day 2 along the Beas River as we drove to Manali. Freezing toes and numb fingers in the Solang Valley were fixed by a feast of momos, maggi, bhajiyas and bhutta. I wouldn't be lying if I said that the moods in the buses were a bit blue when we left Manali behind on Day 4.

Amritsar was the final part of our journey. Every passing minute brought us one step closer to home. Day 5 consisted of Wagah Border, Golden Temple and gorging on Aloo Tikkis, Paranthas and shopping for Juttis and Kadaas. The last night was spent surfing through the endless stream of photographs and recollecting every moment of the glorious week that was Industrial Visit 2014. It has been hardly more than a month since we have been back and already our Whatsapp chat group has been renamed to IV'15. That, I think, should cover the entire human spectrum of emotions.

Activities conducted by ASFA

We the students of ASFA had an exciting experience in the span of these 3 months where we could use our knowledge in the best possible way.

विद्या ददाति विनयं विनयाद्याति पात्रताम् ।
पात्रत्वाद्धनमाप्नोति धनाद्धर्मं ततः सुखम् ॥

Knowledge gives humility, humility leads to capability, from capability one acquires wealth, wealth leads to righteousness and then happiness follows.

All these qualities we find in Mr. Sunil Rane Sir, the founder of Atharva. He has not restricted his knowledge to himself. Because of his vision and mission for transforming world class education he has transformed each and everyone of us into a better human being through knowledge and wisdom. We are all obliged to Mr. Sunil Rane Sir for proving us with world class facilities in this competitive environment.

Activities which were conducted in the span of these 3 months were:

Seminar on Fashion Presentation:

Here we got a theoretical exposure of the fashion industry right from operational point of view to viewer's point of view. We learnt that there are 2 aspects of fashion. First, what we want to show and second, what one perceives when they see it. A successful fashion show is not just because of beautiful models but a beautiful mind and a link between the viewers and the designers who present it. We also got to know how to take inspiration from anyone to anything, how to choose our color theme, how and in what manner to use it, etc.

Accessory designing, Quilling, Mask making workshop:

In this workshop we learnt how to make accessories from different things like clay, M-seal, wires, etc. as well as how to make different things using quilling. We can make cards, photo frames, masks, wall hangings etc.

Articles displayed

E-Week

It is one of the most exciting days in our curriculum, where several individuals work as a team. It's was an amazing experience where we all had fun.

Indian Princess and Indian Princess International

The mega event Indian Princess and Indian Princess International

We all were excited to be a part of this event. Every one wanted to contribute in it not for name or fame but to have an exposure of fashion industry and we could not get a better exposure than this. Here we learnt that there has to be a perfect coordination between the lights, music, walk etc. We learnt time management and how to deal with models.

Team work at E-Week

When the going gets tough, the tough gets going.

This is dedicated to Mrs. Bhatia Madam for always following this principle. However tough the situation is, however big the events are she is the one who has always pushed us, our faculties to go beyond the limit and perform well. Come what may, she has always taught us to cope up with the situations and be tough and focused. She has been a pillar of strength to all of us. We thank Mrs. Bhatia Madam from the bottom of our hearts for being so supportive.

The experience shared is by 3rd year B.Sc Student Ms. Vinaya Keni at the event called Elements 2014. the competition is named "Fusion Infusion".

As the name of the competition "Fusion Infusion" suggests I had to make one classic cocktail and one innovative cocktail in the time span of 10 minutes.

In classic cocktail, I had to pick up a chit and make it on the spot.

In Innovative cocktail I had made "Rock Island" which was a perfect blend of white Rum and Tequila.

The Recepte Of Rock Island Is As Follows

INGREDIENTS

- Watermelon Chopped - Half Cup
- Cherries Chopped – Half Cup
- Lime Juice – 10 ml
- Cherrymonin – 5ml
- Tequila – 15ml
- White Rum – 30 ml

METHOD

- Take A Shaker, Put Chopped Watermelon, Cherries, Lime Juice & Cherry Monin And Muddle It Together.
- Fill The Shaker With Ice, Tequila And White Rum.
- Shake It Together
- Pour it in an old Fashioned glass and garnish it with a lime slice.

It was a Great Experience to be in the Competition and Perform in front of the judges.
I won Silver Medal for my Innovation and Participation.

My First Marathon A Tribute To The Martyrs !

I am a student of BCA 1st year who got this opportunity to run for a good cause at my college Marathon which is a flagship event to start of 'Rhythm 2014', our annual college festival.

My seniors had updated me about how the students and faculties come together and run for a noble cause every year. This year 'Jai Jawan' was the Motto. On 2nd March we students of BCA assembled at 7:00 am eagerly at Atharva Campus in full running gear. The Marathon was from our campus to Goregoan sport club, a distance of around 4 km. We registered our names at the desk and got a wonderful T Shirt with the 'Jai Jawan' logo. We all started running as a big mob. The passers by started cheering us as we ran.

As we all reached the completion line there was a great feeling of accomplishment. There was a message and signature desk where we all wrote messages for our Jawans who laid down their lives fighting for us at the front so that we are safe, I came to know these messages will be conveyed to the Martyrs' families personally by our college envoy.

I am grateful to the management and especially to Shri Sunilji Rane Sir who has taken up such a cause and made all the students a part of it.

The T Shirt will always hold a place of pride in my cupboard reminding me of this wonderful event whenever I wear it.

You Gain Respect in Drops, But Can Lose It in Gallons!

Reputation, built on our past, shapes our present and future. A good reputation can open many doors; a bad reputation can close many more. A good reputation generates respect. A bad reputation breeds suspicion.

Few things in one's professional life are as important as building and protecting a good reputation. It determines recommendations we receive, or not, for jobs and work of all kinds. It helps define our place in our chosen field and in the organizations where we work. It's central to any assistance or consideration we might seek when we find ourselves in a difficult situation.

What's most important is action... We are judged, ultimately, by our actions. In the end, actions make, or break, our reputations.

Actions Define Reputation

Understanding can enhance respect. We see this in our own lives when we've had a chance to talk with someone we previously had known only from a distance. Our respect for the person and our view of his or her reputation can increase or decrease, depending on whether we understand the person better in the end. But what's most important is action. What people do matters far more to us than what they say. We are judged, ultimately, by our actions. In the end, actions make, or break, our reputations.

This is what we have to keep in mind, in all our endeavours.

Students from various B schools participated in the competition. It was conducted in 2 rounds and at the end, four teams were shortlisted for the finals. The event was successful and all the participants received certificates and a gift from BMA.

An evening with the RBI Governor

It was indeed a privilege to attend the tenth D.R. Gadgil memorial lecture by the honorable Governor of Reserve Bank of India, Dr. Raghuram Rajan at Y.B. Chavan centre, Nariman point on 17th Feb. 2014.

The event began with lightning of lamp by the Governor followed by a welcome address by Capt. Dipak Naik, president of MEDC (Maharashtra Economic Development Centre). Dr. Rajan released the book "The next big economic reforms". The theme of the session was "financial inclusion: technology, institutions and policy". In his speech Dr. Rajan focused on topics like fiscal consolidation, reducing inflation, investments, fiscal control etc. He also highlighted that growth is low in manufacturing sector India and is stabilized relatively. Dr. Rajan also spoke about the KYC norms and the development of banking sector due to technology. The session ended with an interactive discussion wherein audiences were given a chance to ask questions. Dr Rajan separately addressed the students after his speech where they poured in lots of questions regarding economic reforms, financial structures and budgeting etc.

The event ended with a vote of thanks by Capt. Anil Save, Sr. Vice President, MEDC. Overall the event was a big success.

Indian Princess- A Unique Beauty Pageant With Social Causes.

Our Honourable Executive President, Mr. Sunil Rane has created a versatile platform called Indian Princess with a great vision. It does provide education in multiple ways and an opportunity for young girls from India and abroad to showcase their talent after intensive training and grooming . Our students who help organize this event of ATHARVA also get a practical exposure and hone their skills. Indian Princess is also attached to 2 social causes, honouring and supporting the martyr's of our country and supporting the girl child education in rural areas of India. These contestants are later taken for promotional and cultural exchange program shows in Thailand , which gives them an International exposure and also boosts our India- Thai relations. This year the winner is Ms. Chandni Sharma who is from a culturally rich ,small town, Gohar in Himachal Pradesh. She is an electronics & telecommunication engineer. We visited a government public school in this small town and gifted 2 laptops to 2 bright girl students from this school. We hope that not just these 2 girls but all the students from this school will be encouraged by our gesture and take inspiration from our Indian Princess, Ms. Chandni Sharma and make it big in their lives. We also visited Martyr Capt. S. Kalia's family in Palampur (HP) to acknowledge and appreciate his supreme sacrifice for our country. Capt. Kalia was the first officer to detect and inform about the Pak intrusion while doing patrol duties in the first fortnight of May 1999. Capt. S. Kalia along with his 5 jawans were captured alive on the Indian side of LOC. On May 15th 1999 Capt. Kalia fought the real battle for 22 days undergoing the worst possible ordeal. Pak army indulged in the most heinous acts of burning bodies with cigarettes, piercing ears with hot irons, removing eyes, breaking most of the bones and teeth , chopping off various limbs and genitals of these soldiers. The enemy gave in , but these valiant sons did not break while undergoing the brutal torture. Pak army had to shoot them ultimately. A common man would shiver just to think of what happened to these soldiers.

Capt. Kalia's parents are still running from pillar to post seeking justice against this unpardonable war crime. His parent's words still reverberate in my mind- “Why can't the politicians take an oath the way an army man does to serve his country and put his country before his life? Why is, that there is no value for human lives in our country? If Indians are made of the same flesh and blood as people from other countries , why can't we Indians be sincere in our ways? Why don't we believe in being disciplined, working hard and having a right attitude? In 2011 , when we had met Lt. Navdeep's parents, they said citizens of India can pay tribute to these brave sons of soil with small gestures –like performing even the most insignificant task however small, with sincerity and dedication.

The Food for thought now is, “Can we do our day- to -day work sincerely and pay tribute to our real heroes”?
